This product is intended to reduce the spread of viruses, bacteria and other potentially harmful airborne particles from one person to another. However, like most products, it does not provide a guarantee or any other assurance to the buyer or other user of the product against the transmission of viruses, bacteria or other such particles. Fabricated Products Group, LLC and its affiliates ("Seller") therefore do not accept liability for the transmission of or exposure to any such harmful particles, nor does it accept liability for any damage or injury caused by improper installation or use of the product. The buyer of the product releases the Seller from all such liability.
